

- To ensure that the operators of wastewater treatment plants (which is the main target group of the project) acquire the necessary skills and knowledge for their job and personal development, fact which has a direct influence on European competitiveness and economic growth, and thus helps to create more and better jobs.
- To ensure that the skills of the operators of wastewater treatment plants correspond to the requirements of the sector
- To contribute to the development of digital contents which are fundamental element of the knowledge society.
- To promote the accreditation of skills acquired through non formal and informal learning